MAKE THE MOST OF YOUR PRODUCTS
AND AVOID WASTE

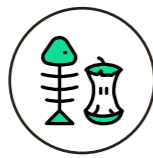

WE WELCOME

...to our 2023 product guide. Inside you'll find our usual full product list, as well as some handy tips and tricks for making the most of your products.

Our main brochure theme this year is food waste - how can you make the most out of your products? We've taken this simple idea and throughout the brochure have easy to follow tips, tricks and serving ideas, all of which are based around surplus food you might have left over. Our front cover features Buddha Bowls, and on page 60 you can see three different recipes for these which can be adapted to fit with whatever you have left over from your lunchtime rush, or from last night's evening prep.

Look out for our Taste not Waste symbol throughout the brochure for tips on making the most out of your products.

We're extremely proud of our ongoing commitment to reducing our environmental impact and have outlined some highlights on our Social Responsibility spread (see page 4).

One way improvements can be made in environmental impact, is to reduce the distance travelled by food - with this in mind, we set out to replace our existing range of cooked meats with a locally sourced range created in partnership with The Browns Food Group - take a look at page 20 to find out more! If you're looking to serve more local produce, keep an eye out for our Scottish Product indicator symbol throughout the brochure - we've added a wide range of new products in the past year, so there's something for everyone looking for products from closer to home.

As ever, we have our Vegan section, so you can easily see all our plant-based products in one place, as well as our handy measurements and conversions guide, and some key info on allergens and food intolerances.

We also have a section on our website, where you can look up all our product specifications, helping you keep up-to-date with any changes to ingredients, ensuring you're offering your customers the correct info at point of purchase.

We hope you enjoy browsing this year's guide and find our tips useful, and we welcome any tips or tricks you might have to make your stock go that little bit further - please share these with us via our social media channels below, where you can also keep up to date with all of our upcoming news, product launches and more tips and tricks!

Our new range of own-label joints and sliced meats, produced in Scotland, exclusively for Lomond foods. This saves 56,000 food miles annually and allows us to mitigate any supply chain issues post-brexit.

We worked with Redemption to reduce plastic packaging across their Love Soup range.

p.12

Food Waste

We monitor our food waste very closely and have appointed a Zero Food Waste Champion. We've adopted a policy of, when a product gets to within 2 days of its shelf life, if it can't be sold, we make it available to our charity partners. Our Charitable Champion works with our Zero Food Waste Champion to ensure as much short shelf life product/ potential waste product finds a charitable home.

Taste @ Lomond 2022

Taste@Lomond 2022 was run as a charitable event supported by FareShare. Our aim being to donate as much stock after the event that may have otherwise been wasted. The result was incredible.

2.77 TONNES OF FOOD Donated to Fareshare across the 2 day event.	95 CHARITIES RECEIVED DONATIONS Including 6 homeless charities and 3 community groups serving the elderly	6,950 MEALS DONATED to Fareshare across the 2 day event.	4.4 TONNES OF EMBEDDED CO2 Prevented from going to waste.	4 LITRES OF EMBEDDED WATER Prevented from going to waste.

Taste@Lomond 2022 was also our first show where 50% of the exhibitors in attendance were from Scotland. This resulted in us seeing record numbers of attendance across the 2 day event.

To bring even more of a focus to our Scottish suppliers, we also released our Taste of Scotland Food Guide which highlights the huge variety of products and suppliers that we are lucky enough to have right on our doorstep.

Our aim is to source 50% of our stock from Scottish suppliers by the end of 2023. Pre-Covid we hit 29% and are currently tracking at 41% for this year.

Use up leftover cake by crumbling over desserts such as ice-cream or chopping up into sundaes.

Create cake pops by crumbling the cake with extra buttercream, rolling into balls and then, once chilled, dipping into melted chocolate.

SERVING SUGGESTION

Serve a selection of sliced meats, chunks of cheese, olives and crusty bread or crackers on a board or plate for a delicious starter or sharing board.

Make it more continental with a pot of pesto or balsamic, or serve slices of beef with mustard and gherkins for a classic flavour combo.

Own-label Sliced Meats & Joints

produced in Scotland exclusively for Lomond Foods

We worked closely with Browns Food Group to create a new range of cooked joints and sliced meats, produced in Scotland exclusively for Lomond Foods.

As we all know, many aspects of food production and transportation contribute to global warming, with some estimates suggesting up to 25% of global CO2 emissions come from transportation alone.

With this in mind, we sought to change our existing range - sourced from all over the UK and beyond - to a range fully produced in Scotland.

Moving to this new, bespoke range, saves us 56,000 food miles annually while also ensuring that any supply issues are reduced when compared with products being delivered from much further afield.

Taste not Waste TIPS!

We have a great selection of frozen chicken, but if you have some leftovers after using what you need, why not add extra to your food to go options - add chunks to soups, pastas or salads.

If you have any leftovers from your turkey saddles, you can add chunks to pasta bakes, or serve on nachos with a dollop of soured cream, jalapenos and salsa.

Covering all your butchery needs, from beef, pork and chicken, to game, lamb and more. Many products sourced from Scottish suppliers.

Taste not Waste TIPS!

Leftover bacon can be cooked until crisp and finely chopped to be used as a topping for salads, soups and even mixed through sandwich fillings.

If you have leftover chicken thighs, legs and wings with bones in, these can be added to homemade stocks to add a depth of flavour.

Meat trimmings can also be used to add flavour to stocks, simply freeze until needed.

Taste not Waste TIPS!

Making fishcakes is an easy way to use up not only leftover fish, but also leftover vegetables. Use potato as a base, and add in spring onions, a bit of grated cheese and any other chopped up veg you have left. Mix an egg in and dust with flour before frying.

Taste not Waste TIPS!

Depending on the type of cheese - and quantity - you have leftover, there's a good amount of ways to use it up.

You can freeze hard cheese for up to 6 months - it will be a bit more crumbly after defrosting, so will be best used in sauces and recipes where it's melted.

Blue cheese can be used to add a punch to salad dressings and sauces - blend with soured cream, vinegar, oil and mustard and season to taste.

If you have small amounts of a range of cheeses, you can combine these in an indulgent dish, such as a three cheese sauce for macaroni or cauliflower cheese.

Hard cheese can also be used to make simple cheese straws. Use ready made puff pastry brushed with beaten eggs, top with grated cheese and cut into strips, twist and then bake til golden.

Taste not Waste TIPS!

If you're looking to get the most out of your fillings, most of the non-mayonnaise based options can be heated and used in panini and toasties. For something a bit different, why not heat with rice, or pasta and use as a convenient and flavourful sauce.

Taste not Waste TIPS!

Leftover houmous and pesto are great mixed through pasta - either hot or cold, or spread onto sandwiches to add a bit more flavour.

Guacamole is also a great sandwich filler and can be served as a side with main meals such as fish and baked potatoes.

Mayonnaise is often under utilised and can be used up in a variety of ways. Use on the outside of toasties instead of butter, for a crisper crunch. Make your own flavoured mayo by adding herbs, spices or mustard.

MADE USING LEFT OVER INGREDIENTS

these Buddha Bowls are easy to prepare, avoid food waste and can be adapted to work with whatever you have left over from your food prep. You can choose to heat some elements up, or serve cold as a filling lunchtime salad. We've made three varieties but feel free to try out your own recipes - they work with pretty much anything!

SERVING SUGGESTION

Leftover or stale bread can be turned into a delicious bread and butter pudding. Layer up slices of bread, in a greased oven dish, with dollops of caramel and slices of apple or other leftover fruit.

Pour over some custard and let it soak in for 30 mins, then bake for 35 - 40 mins at 180c until puffed up and golden brown.

Sweet bakes, cakes and pastries, including a large selection from local suppliers, new Greek desserts and a range of frozen cakes.
