LOMOND

THE WHOLESALE FOOD CO.

The CHRISTMAS Collection 2025

Welcome...

Welcome to the Lomond Foods 2025 Christmas Brochure! We're thrilled to share our refreshed look for this year - a bold, modern take on the festive season that still delivers everything you need to create your most memorable Christmas menus yet.

2025 has been an exciting year for Lomond. With our recent acquisition of Clarks Speciality Foods, our range has grown even further - bringing you an even wider selection of premium products, artisan ingredients, and speciality treats to inspire your festive creations.

Inside, you'll find everything from classic Christmas centrepieces - including traditional turkey, a wide range of meats, and fresh seafood - to all the sides, accompaniments, and chef essentials you could need. And of course, no festive menu would be complete without indulgent desserts. From pages 90 - 99, discover our decadent sweet treats, while pages 103 - 114 showcase our carefully selected cheeses, chutneys, and savoury delights.

Our bakery section, Cake, is featured on pages 84 - 87, with much-loved favourites such as Millionaire's Shortbread and Victoria Sponge, alongside seasonal specials like the Mince Pie Slice and Rudolph Shortbread Biscuits.

For inspiration, our Culinary Business Development Managers - Robbie Penman and Kevin MacGillivray - are on hand to offer menu ideas, product suggestions, and creative ways to elevate your Christmas offering.

As always, our easy-to-spot indicator icons help you identify dishes to suit a variety of dietary requirements, and our 'locally sourced' symbol makes it easy to add a sustainable touch to your menu.

Your sales rep will provide you with an order form, but if you need extra copies or have any queries, simply speak to your rep or get in touch with the telesales team - info@lomondwholesale.co.uk.

From all of us at Lomond Foods - Merry Christmas, and here's to a delicious and successful 2025!

FESTIVE SET MENU

A set menu can bring real benefits to your business, particularly during the festive season when things get hectic. With a fixed menu, you know exactly what dishes will be served, making it easier to order ingredients in the right quantities. This helps reduce waste, control costs, and keep profit margins on track.

It also means greater consistency. With fewer dishes to prepare, chefs can focus on delivering quality and presentation every time. Standardised recipes ensure portions are the same across the board, giving customers a reliable dining experience they can trust during one of the busiest times of the year.

Starter -
Chicken liver Pate, Arran Oaties, with a spiced pear chutney finished with EV Perello Oil.

Main -
Turkey roulade wrapped in prosciutto with a cranberry stuffing, roasted root vegetables, seasonal accompaniments and turkey jus.

Sustainable tips:

CHRISTMAS COOKING

Being more responsible when cooking is all the more important at Christmas, a time of year that is notoriously excessive. By cooking smart, planning ahead, trimming back and rethinking some old traditions, we can all make a difference to the planet and run our kitchens more efficiently.

1. Plan Ahead

Consider things such as ordering ingredients from suppliers that use minimal packaging and how many food deliveries you'll need to get. Consolidating your deliveries in the fewer runs will reduce your carbon footprint significantly.

2. Reduce Packaging

There are many opportunities to cut down on the amount of packaging you use at Christmas. Turkeys from suppliers like butchers or a farmers market often come in no more than a cardboard box.

Buying loose fruit and veg means you only buy what you need and you can put everything into reusable bags.

Making food from scratch also cuts down on packaging, although flour, sugar, dried fruit etc come in bags that need recycled it's not as much as the highly packaged products that need to be protected as they sit on the shelves in the supermarkets.

3. Cut Food Waste

Try to cut any waste by planning ahead - be realistic about how much food you need and use up leftovers. If you are unsure on the amount you need consider buying frozen, tinned or long-life foods that will last well into the new year. Instead of clingfilm, use Tupperware, foil and wax cloth covers to keep leftovers nice and fresh!
Food production is the biggest cause of tropical deforestation, around 18% of the food we buy is thrown away on average, this comes at a cost as it wastes money and it is a strain on the planets resources. Packaging that accompanies wasted food products is 15% more Co2 than the food itself.

4. Cook With Care

Meters of foil, baking parcment and cling film get used at Christmas. You can cut down on both your costs and waste by investing in reusable wax wraps and tin liners.

5. Equipment

Sharpen your knives! Sharp knives are easier to use and create less waste.

Stainless steel boxes, glass jars and silicone bags are great ways to store food. The bags in particular are good for packing food flat to stack in freezers, food stored properly will stay fresher for longer.

6. Bones & Peelings

You can make stock from vegetable peelings and bones, by using a slow cooker or pressure cooker to make the stock it frees up space in the rest of the kitchen and requires less labour.

Many foods we normally peel don't actually require it, and the peelings create a lot of food waste. By adding plenty of herbs, garlic seasoning and cooking everything through thoroughly no one will notice if it's peeled or not...

7. Use Your Freezer

Ensure your freezer is clear before the festive season so you can store leftovers or anything you know you wont use straight away.

8. Love Your Leftovers

Think about using your leftovers to create new and exciting dishes such as Christmas pizza, turkey minestrone or sprout hash.

9. Choose Wisely

Items we use every day can be swapped for sustainable options. Opt for recycled aluminium foil and FSC-certified baking parchment, roasting bags and paper cases.

10. Composting

Put all your produce scraps into a compost bin to turn into soil, it's really easy and saves a lot of food waste from being binned.

BRINDISA

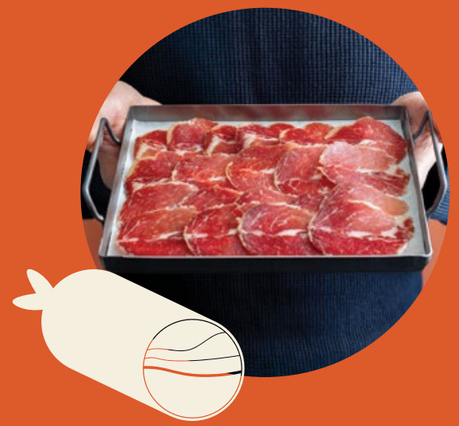

Sabor a Navidad

BRINDISA AT LOMONDS | CHRISTMAS 2025

Lambda

Lambda is a raw milk washed rind cheese from Quesos de Hualdo in Toledo. Its vibrant orange-pink rind, naturally developed through Brevibacterium linens, gives it a striking look and flavour. Matured for 30 days to 3 months, its creamy, buttery texture and complex, fruity flavours intensify with age. Perfectly paired with dried nuts, dates, roasted vegetables, and Arbequina EVOO, it's an elegant addition to your festive cheeseboard.

Lomo Doblado

Señorío Ibérico Bellota Lomo Doblado is a regional speciality from Extremadura, made from tender, acorn-fed ibérico pork loin. This artisan delicacy has a clean, buttery sweetness and a remarkably soft texture. Unlike traditional cured loin, this one is made without paprika. A whole tenderloin is folded in half, coated in lard and then cured. An exquisite addition to any festive platter.

Tortas de Aceite

Tortas Andrés Gaviño have been a Sevillian tradition since the 19th century. Originally baked using the residual heat from bread ovens, these delicate olive oil biscuits use quality extra virgin olive oil, wheat flour, sesame, anise, and sugar. Our orange-flavoured tortas are made with fragrant Seville oranges, adding a zesty twist to this artisanal treat. Also available in traditional, rosemary, and almond varieties.

Panettone

The Turrón Panettone, handmade at Raúl Asencio bakery in Aspe, Alicante, combines Italian tradition with Spain's finest ingredients. Turrón de Jijona, Spain's famous nougat, made with the finest Marcona almonds, enriches this recipe. It offers a perfect balance of textures and nutty flavours with hints of fragrant vanilla. An indulgent and delicious festive treat.

Sabor a Navidad

THE TASTE OF CHRISTMAS

Our 2025 Christmas collection celebrates exceptional Spanish foods—from luxurious cheeseboards filled with artisan cheeses and accompaniments, to the rich depth of ibérico charcuterie, varietal honeys, and unique sweet treats like turrón panettone. This year's selection also features new finds and gourmet gifts: the finest vinegars and olive oils, and pantry essentials that elevate even the simplest meals.
